- 2) Due to changing environment, unhealthy diet, dietary patterns and stressful life human health is taking a toll.
- 3) Due to many health problems like Chikungunya, Corona ,Cancer, Attack students and citizens felt the need for health care and health duty.
- 4) Health coverage program helps many needy people as well as health facilities, understanding of health problems can bring about positive social change.
- 5) A health program is essential for what we want to see healthy health and health conscious support.

The practice:-

Health awareness programs are planned by systematically organizing the program at specific time every year

- 1) A committee is appointed for the program to be implemented in health awareness programs and it plans the program by holding committee meeting.
- 2) All teachers and members of management actively take part in the organizational activity.
- 3) The committee ensures students staff and citizens of the city are well informed about the health programs.
- 4) Various health programs are organized on the occasion of birthdays and health days.

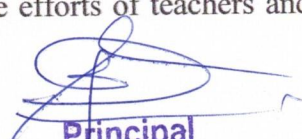

Evidence of success:-

The blood donation camp, fruit distribution program, nutritional food distribution program conducted by the college on the occasion of Satish Bhau Chavan's birthday received good response from the citizens. All the students, teachers, non- teaching staff, of the college and the citizens of the city participated in the vaccination programs organized after the corona period. Every year on the occasion of yoga day and NSS camp. Many people participated in the internal yoga training. It helped in making the college a quarantine center during the corona period and not inconveniencing people. Women health camp under NSS camp also received good response from women.

Problems encountered and resource required:-

There had been no major problem .The awareness of Blood donation, women's camp, yoga camp initially showed the negativity of the citizens but the efforts of teachers and NSS volunteers will reduce the fare of the citizens.
